

PEACE WORK IS AGAIN HELD UP BY THE ITALIANS

Completion of Austrian Treaty Blocked By Romans Renewing Their Attitude Toward Territorial Demands

Germany's Counter-Proposals Will Be Ready By Thursday—Extension of Time Not to Be Asked

WITH THE ITALIANS threatening a second break at Paris Tuesday, peace work of the "Big Four" was again halted. Because of the Romans renewing their territorial demands, completion of the Austrian treaty was delayed.

THE ITALIAN SITUATION also presents another problem to the conferees, as it has been reported to Paris that the Roman troops have occupied the town of Socia, in Asia Minor, which brings up the question of responsibilities.

GERMAN DELEGATES are speeding up work on their counter-proposals. They say they will have them ready for presentation not later than Thursday and will not ask for an extension of time.

N C-4 "JUMP-OFF"

PARIS—The big four Tuesday continued consideration of the Austrian treaty, including the financial sections. The treaty, it was learned, still has many incomplete provisions. Because of this, and because it is necessary to devote much time to consideration of the notes emanating from the German delegates, it is not believed likely that the treaty can be handed to the Austrians before the end of this week.

Completion of the Austrian treaty is being delayed because Italy is again manifesting a stubborn attitude regarding the Adriatic situation. It is understood the Italian delegates are repeating the tactics they used before their recent withdrawal from the conference, intimating they will retire from the sessions once more unless an agreement on their claims to Adriatic territories is reached soon.

The question of responsibilities is also offering possibilities. The Italians, according to advices reaching here, have occupied the towns of Socia in Asia Minor, 50 miles southeast of Smyrna. Should they occupy the nearby harbor, they would be in the position of rivaling Smyrna, it is pointed out.

German delegates at Versailles have declared unofficially they will not ask a further extension of time to discuss the treaty and that their counter-proposals will be ready by Thursday. Printing of their counter-proposals is well under way aboard the special train carrying printing equipment, which was brought here from Germany for that purpose.

KENTON MAN SHOT

John Hathaway Killed by Vigilance Committee

DELAWARE.—John Hathaway, 45, of Kenton, was shot and killed early Tuesday, near Richmond, Union county, by a vigilance committee of farmers who were on guard to detect an alleged wool thief who has been operating in that neighborhood for several weeks.

The vigilantes met Hathaway on a road three miles north of Parisburg, driving a team hitched to a light wagon. Ordered to halt, Hathaway whipped his horses into a run. The farmers immediately opened fire and Hathaway fell dead. It is said they found 50 fleeces of wool in the wagon.

Sheriff Altkire had made no arrests at noon Tuesday, tho he was making an investigation. Names of the vigilantes who did the shooting have not been ascertained.

FIRST BOOTLEGGER'S CAREER IS CUT SHORT

MARIETTA, Ohio.—Ed Hammond first Marietta bootlegger since Ohio was caught in the drouth, used a horse to deliver his booze, but at that he didn't work fast enough to gather in the $200 needed to pay the fine Mayor Crawford assessed. He's in jail Tuesday.

Hammond ran across a West Virginian who had no eye-opener when he awoke after his celebration. He borrowed the visitor's horse to hurry for the whiskey. The cops got him soon after he had made his first delivery.

COLUMBUS.—Ohio supreme court decreed Tuesday that James Morgan must die in the electric chair for the murder of a railroad conductor in Williams county.

U.S. FLYERS ARE NOW NEARING LISBON

RELATIVES GIVEN BULK OF THE SINCLAIR ESTATE

Son, Step-daughter, Two Brothers and Sister are Given Big Shares

Much Property Placed in Trust Will Be Sold in Ten Years

The will of the late John R. Sinclair, wealthy oil man, making disposition of his estate was probated Tuesday afternoon. Five heirs, one son, one step-daughter, two brothers and one sister are named as beneficiaries. Albert F. Sinclair, son, who resides at the old home, 536 west North street, Ernest E. of Winthrop, Mass., and William F. Sinclair, Montpelier, Ind., brothers, Mrs. Hope G. Nash, sister of the deceased and Mrs. Bertha R. Beam, Lima, are the heirs.

Division of shares of capital and preferred stock in the Lima Telephone and Telegraph company and capital stock of the Pennsylvania railroad was made.

The will provides for an annuity of $100 per month from the estate to fall to his son, Albert; the summer residence of Mr. Sinclair at Harrington, Maine, and the life use of the undivided half of the stock farm known as the Britt-Sinclair farm in Shawnee are also given to his son.

His stepdaughter, Mrs. Beam, is bequeathed two city lots and the buildings and improvements on the same; the household goods and appliances at the old home, 536 west North street; 154 shares of common stock and 67 preferred shares in the Lima Telephone company.

Hope G. Nash, sister receives 250 shares of capital stock, in the Pennsylvania railroad and stock to the amount of $20,000 in the old Fort Wayne, Van Wert and Lima Traction company.

The Market Street Presbyterian Church, in memory of his deceased wife, Spohronia, comes in for a bequest of $5,000.

A gift of $2000 to the Lima Hospital Society was included in the will.

Provisions for the remainder of the estate which includes his big oil holdings, to be held in trust by the Lima Trust company for a period of ten years were made. At the end of this time the estate must be sold and divided among the five heirs. Income from the undivided portion of the estate is to be shared in by all five heirs, as mentioned in the foregoing, in the case of the death of any of the heirs before the final disposition of the property by the trust company their share goes to their legal heirs.

A request for the speedy settlement of the estate was included in the will.

Fred C. Beam, husband of the stepdaughter was named as executor. The will was made February 27, 1918.

LICENSE BOARD IS STILL ON JOB

Commissioners Refuse To Quit When Price Rules Office is Abolished

COLUMBUS.—The state liquor license commission was on the job Tuesday in spite of the ruling of Attorney General Price late Monday that the commission ceased to exist with the advent of prohibition Monday night.

Commissioners hold that they cannot quit now, because they are bonded for $25,000 each and have thousands of dollars of state property under their control which they must dispose of. They also hold that if they were to quit now, the state would lose at least $200,000 in fines in cases of violation that are now pending in the courts.

John Nolan, member of the commission, said Tuesday that if State Auditor Donahy refused to pay the commissioners, the case will be carried to the Ohio supreme court.

Still scurrying for enough votes to pass their new prohibition enforcement bills, as emergency legislation, dry leaders Tuesday planned to postpone action on the measures until a later day. The bills were to have come as a special order of business in the house Tuesday afternoon.

Honor Medal For Aviators Proposed

WASHINGTON.—Awarding of the congressional medal of honor—the nation's highest mark of service to Lieutenant-Commander Read and the crew of the N. C.-4 in the event of their successful completion of a trans-Atlantic flight, is proposed in the house in a resolution prepared by Representative Britten, Illinois.

Britten would have the medals presented to show the appreciation of congress for the daring and courage of the flyers. Their feat, he said, will stand as one of the greatest in history.

Chairman Butler has promised speedy action on Britten's resolution and the naval committee may take it on the floor of the house as the flyers reach the Portuguese coast.

HAWKER TO TRY AGAIN AT OCEAN FLIGHT

British Aviator Plans Another Attempt to Cross the Atlantic

Big Reception Awaits Arrival of Airmen in London Tonight

LONDON.—Harry G. Hawker will make another attempt to fly across the Atlantic, according to the statement attributed to him by the Daily News.

"I will try again and I think I can succeed," Hawker said at Inverness, the newspaper announced.

The Duke of Athol will head 200 members of the Aero Club who are to greet Hawker upon his arrival in London Tuesday evening.

The automobile procession will pass slowly from the railway station to the club. All the Australian soldiers in London will line the route. Many hands are to be in line.

When the aviators who fell into the sea while attempting to fly in a Sopwith plane from New Foundland to Ireland, arrive in London Tuesday night, they are assured of a reception, probably the equal of that ever accorded a national hero entering the metropolis.

Britain's enthusiasm for Hawker and Grieve, his navigator, was undiminished Tuesday.

Dispatches from the north told of the triumphal progress from Thurso, the little town where the aviators landed after having been mourned as lost for nearly a week. There were cheering crowds at the stations.

When their train pulled into Inverness, they were greeted by Provost MacDonald.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER. "I'm glad you have lived to fly again," said again. "I hope that after a needed rest, you'll win the prize."

"This message is most embarrassing," replied Hawker. "The risk wasn't so great as people thought. It was a perfectly straightforward attempt over."

After having been entertained at dinner by the provost, Hawker appeared on the balcony of the hotel and then thanked the crowd which blocked the street calling for him.

Crowds at Edinburgh where he arrived Tuesday morning, were even more insistent. When Hawker left the train, he was elevated to the shoulders of a crowd of men and borne in triumph thru the streets to his hotel, while people struggled on all sides to shake his hand.

Mrs. Hawker eagerly heard the accounts of the airman's progress. She starts for Grantham, 23 miles from London Tuesday and will meet her husband there.

AVIATION CARNIVAL. Preparations were started Tuesday for an aviation carnival at Hendon airrome Saturday and Sunday in honor of Hawker and Grieve.

Many famous pilots are expected to do tricks in the air. Hawker will be asked to loop the loop and perform other aerial capers.

Thurso, where the aviators landed, paid them high honors and gave them an enthusiastic send-off when they started for London.

N. C-4 Seaplane Starts From Ponta Delgada on Final Leg of Her Flight to the European Mainland

"Jump-Off" Is Made Amid Booming of Guns and Ringing of Bells In the Little Portuguese Town

WASHINGTON.—Winging thru the air at a speed of approximately 80 miles an hour, Commander Read, of the N. C.-4 passed Station Ship Number eight at 11:16 o'clock Tuesday morning (Washington time.)

This news, flashed to the navy department, revealed that the N. C.-4 has passed the half-way mark on her journey from Ponta Delgada to Lisbon after four hours and 58 minutes and should reach continental Europe about 4 o'clock (Washington time.)

The leg to the continent is being flown with the same crew aboard as started from America. In addition to Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Read, the flyers are Lieutenant E. F. Stone, pilot; Lieutenant (junior grade) W. Hinton, pilot; Ensign H. C. Rodd, radio operator; Chief Signal Mechanic Rhodes, engineer and Lieutenant J. L. Breese, reserve pilot engineer.

FLIGHT GREETED WITH CHEERS IN CONGRESS.

There was tremendous interest in congress at the progress of the flight Tuesday. Announcements of successful passing of stations by the N. C.-4 enroute to Lisbon were greeted with cheers.

To insure the safety of the flyers the navy has distributed 14 destroyers along the route from Ponta Delgada to Lisbon, ranged at a distance of 50 miles (nautical) apart.

Navy officials here figure that the N. C.-4, if she continues her present rate of speed, will reach her destination at 4:15 p. m. (Washington time) Tuesday afternoon.

The N. C.-4 passed the ninth station ship at 12:18 p. m. New York time.

At 1:10 p. m. the N. C.-4 was reported as having passed over Station 11, leaving approximately 250 miles of the journey to Lisbon to go.

PONTA DELGADA, AZORES.—The N. C-4 took the air for the bound for Lisbon at 10:20 a. m. Greenwich time.

The N. C.-4 headed eastward at once and had passed from sight four minutes later.

Lieutenant-Commander Read and original crew were in the great plane's cockpit when she began the final leg of her flight to the European mainland. A great cheer went up from the crowds on the shore when the N. C.-4 taxied to the jump off and left the water.

Guns boomed on the shore and bells rung in the little Portuguese town.

Weather conditions were excellent. The sky was cloud flecked and a favorable breeze prevailed.

Reports from destroyers stationed between Ponta Delgada and Lisbon indicated perfect weather condition all along the route.

The start was made after Read and his crew had carefully overhauled the engine for more than an hour.

The N. C.-4 passed the first destroyer station to the east of Ponta Delgada at 11:13 a. m. Greenwich time.

From that point, Lieutenant Commander Read sent a radio to Admiral Jackson, at Ponta Delgada, thanking him for his hospitality to the American flyers.

WASHINGTON.—Commander Read, in the navy seaplane, N. C.-4 left Ponta Delgada at 6:18 a. m. Washington time Tuesday on the 500-mile flight to Lisbon, the navy department officially announced Tuesday.

The N. C.-4 passed station ship two at 7:35 Washington time, according to a dispatch from Admiral Jackson to the navy department. This is about 100 miles out. The first station ship was passed at 7:13, the message stated.

BURTON DEPLORES SLOW ACTION ON GARBAGE MATTER

Health Officer Says City is Endangered Under System in Force

"The procrastination and dilatory nature of the city council," said Dr. Burton, city health officer Tuesday, "is apt to prove a menace to the public health."

Garbage should be collected at least twice a week during the present weather. If it is permitted to accumulate, and decompose the existing diseases are aggravated. In time other more deadly diseases will result, typhoid fever being directly a result of improper city sanitation.

"As it is the Board of Health is entirely powerless to act in this matter," he said, "and we want to do something quick. Formerly the service director handled this proposition, but it is to be put on this department, and I am very willing to handle it, but I do not want to take the responsibilities if we are to be delayed until the conditions are worse."

"Council should suspend the rules and proceed with all possible legislation as soon as they can get together. Nothing is more important at the present time and they have suspended the rules on matters of less import. But I suppose they will put the ordinance to turn this matter over to us, up or the third reading and it will be July before we can get our hands on the garbage."

"The offer of a defiance concern to collect the garbage once a week for 50 cents a month, is not exorbitant, but during the hot summer months once a week is not often enough. Garbage should be collected at least twice a week during this weather. It is for the public's health."

JUMPS TO HIS DEATH

WHEELING, W. Va.—Fred G. Williams, 43, of Martin's Ferry, leaped off Union Bridge into the river here Monday and drowned. He and his daughter were riding in an automobile when Williams' hat blew off. The car was stopped for him to get it and he abandoned the chase to leap from the bridge.

TAKE MEANS, DEMAND PAY, GERMANS SAY

Foe Declares Peace Terms Impossible in Counter-Proposals to "Big Four"

Immediate Admission to League of Nations Demanded by the Enemy

BY CARL D. GROAT (Copyright, 1919, by the United Press.)

BERLIN.—(Sunday)—Chancellor Scheldemann informed the United Press Sunday that Germany's counter-proposals to the peace terms will demand immediate admission of Germany to the league of nations.

The counter-proposals, the chancellor said, place the needs of France foremost, agree to restoration of destroyed French territory and full reparation for ruined coal mines.

Germany also agrees to respect Belgium's claims, he declares. It accepts the limitation of 100,000 for its army in the future and is ready for complete disarmament on land and sea, provided other nations will agree to do likewise.

Scheldemann said Germany's demand for admission to the league, was based upon President Wilson's 14 points, especially the points on self-determination and a peace of economic justice.

Germany's terms will be handed the allies soon, he announced.

OFFERS "ASTOUNDING"

"We designated the allies' terms as unacceptable in their present form," Scheldemann said. "Now we must use our entire strength and ability in behalf of our counter-proposals. They do not seek to remove our obligations. They place foremost the needs of France which require rebuilding and alleviation of its war burdens if it is not to become bankrupt. Therefore, we offer unreservedly to rebuild the destroyed territory of northern France and give full separation from output of coal mines which were destroyed. We go even further than it was assumed we would go. The financial experts of the world will be astounded by that."

"As far as our proposals concern Belgium, they are in agreement with President Wilson's program."

"We accept the reduction in disarmament to an army of 100,000; and we are prepared for complete disarmament on land and sea if the other nations will agree to do likewise. We are desirous of freeing France from military cares and burdens."

"We can do all these things only if the means of paying for them thru work are provided. If one reads Clemenceau's note one almost loses hope that it is realized that only he who works can pay."

ANSWER TO ALLIES' NOTE.

Regarding Clemenceau's reply to previous German communications the French premier declared Germany would not go hungry even if some of its food producing territories were taken away, as it would still be possible to import foodstuffs from them, the chancellor pointed out that Germany couldn't buy grain and potatoes with paper money of no value outside Germany. He also asserted it would be most difficult to restore German industries when vast quantities of coal must be brought in from outside and when most of the productive territories of the east were torn away from the fatherland without the privilege of self-determination.

"We must withdraw from this deadly circle if the entente desires reparation, and it is with this purpose that our counter-proposals are put forward," Scheldemann declared. "One dare not take the tools from a people and then demand that they work. The German people are like the Jews when they were led by Moses. They face a 40-year's march in the wilderness, but mustn't perish in it."

"Your president has put into force his idea of a league of nations. At the top of our counter-proposals stands our demand for immediate admission to that league. Only thru it can this epoch of hate and mutual destruction be closed."

Stretching the City Streets

City streets were built originally for horse and wagon—not for motor trucks!

Increasing congestion, with its complement of long pauses at every crossing, is sweeping away the profits and time-economy that first induced you to buy a motor truck!

Men whose bread and butter is hauling by truck, must realize that a "saturation point" is being reached and to get full measure of profit from investment must move onto the highways!

Inter-city hauling will cut your upkeep costs in half and double your profits.

4 MILLION BABIES IS TOLL OF WAR

Hunger and Worry Cost Many Unborn Germans, Says
Report

BERLIN.—Germany's greatest casualty list can be charged up against hunger and worry, rather than any army, according to German doctors and scientists who have been working out results of the war in great detail.

Hunger and worry cost the country four million unborn German babies, according to the German doctors, a figure more than twice the German losses on all fronts.

Germany's imaginary casualty list of four million babies is due more to the condition of her women during the war than to the fact that husbands were at the front, say the German doctors, for the German army developed an elaborate system of "permissions." The women suffered more in Germany, psychologically as well as physically, than the men, say the doctors, and were made unfit to become mothers by their suffering.

In spite of the figures the German doctors can produce to show the tremendous falling off in births in Germany during the war, American doctors, who have been in Germany on missions and who have seen German calculations, are inclined to take Germany's imaginary casualty list with a grain of salt.

The German doctors insist on blaming the blockade as being the source of all German health troubles. Influenza made quite an inroad upon the Germans, and the German scientists cited the number of thousands of "innocents killed by the Entente" until they told their views to an American army physician one day. The American asked the Germans how they accounted for influenza casualties in America and the Germans were stumped.

German doctors for a while maintained a propaganda showing the permanent effect on the German race from the blockade which weakened people. Entente doctors routed this theory by showing that for the most part only the weaklings died from lack of necessities. The conclusion is that the German people will be stronger for having lost the weak.

THREE SUSPECTS HELD BY POLICE ADMIT THEY ARE USERS OF MORPHINE

Three men giving their names as John Casey, 39, Earnest Minton, 42 and Harry Dorsey, 39, were arrested at 7:30 Tuesday morning by Plain Clothes Officer Billstein, at the B. and O. railroad station. They were arraigned in police court on affidavits charging them with vagrancy.

Minton pleaded not guilty to the charge and was returned to jail as were the other two. All the men admitted to Judge Botkins that they were users of morphine. They were arrested by Billstein as being suspicious characters. All claimed that they are from Terre Haute, Ind., and said they came here thinking that the Evans Carnival Shows which are due here next week, were here.

When arrested the men stated that their intention was to leave Lima on a 7:30 car for Toledo. Articles taken from Minton were some blank checks of the First National Bank of Jackson, Tenn., and the Crandonale National Bank, of Crandonale, Ill. Minton also had a needle outfit such as is commonly used in injecting morphine. Casey had in his possession a glass cutter and a spoon in which the "dope" is heated and dissolved, it is said. Dr. A. V. Sibert has been called to attend the men.

FREE AT LAST FROM HEADACHE AND DIZZINESS

This West Virginia Woman Strongly Recommends Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Sick headaches are hereditary in many cases. This means that the tendency to headache will become a painful fact unless the blood is rich in quality and abundant in quantity. When the blood loses tone the headaches begin, recurring at uncertain intervals and often with increasing pain. It is especially important for all who are subject to headaches to keep the blood built up.

Mrs. Dale Boyle, of No. 11 Vermont street, Wheeling, W. Va., learned this fact and found relief when she began treatments with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. She says: "I suffered from sick headaches for some time. They were very severe and the attacks seemed to get worse all the time. I also had dizzy spells and every time I stooped over became sick and would have to lie down. I couldn't enjoy eating and felt miserable most of the time."

"One day I read an advertisement about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to give the remedy a trial. I felt somewhat improved after a week's treatment and continued taking the pills until the headaches stopped and I am very happy to say that I haven't had a sick headache since. My appetite is good now. I feel fine and no longer have the dizzy spells. I can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for sick headaches."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or direct from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents per box six boxes for $2.50, postpaid, on receipt of price. Write for the free booklet on nervous disorders, with a special chapter on headaches.

One Sign of Good Paint is its smoothness and the ease with which a fine even coat can be applied. Another is the extent of the surface a given quantity will cover thoroughly. Still another is durability, the length of time it will stay bright and fresh looking. Our paints have all these qualities in the very highest degree.

Wasn't New But Crowd Enjoyed It

Lima and in fact the whole state of Ohio had been dry only a few hours when a crowd gathered on west High street to watch a man making his way down the alley midway between Main and Elizabeth streets.

This pedestrian who, in ordinary times would have caused very little notice, already was a novelty. He was having trouble in navigating and the alley seemed entirely too narrow. He bumped the building first on one side, then on the other. It was great sport for the ones watching.

Of course it was not too soon for the held-over supply to be exhausted but it was soon enough for many to remark, "Where do they get it?"

BIGGEST HIGH SCHOOL PAPER NOW ON SALE

The Mirror staff of the Lima High Central High school Friday placed on sale the 1919 edition of the annual publication of the high school paper. The publication this year contains 178 pages which is more than any edition yet published by the Lima High students.

The staff which edited the publication is composed of Tirzah McKinnon, Elwood Thomas, Herman Gelsner, Helen Hoegner, Ruthela Preble, Richard Johns, Ted Gardner, John Lynch, Margaret Stone, Earl Phillips, J. B. Adkins, Anna Bradley, Walter Nungester, James Black, Adrian Hurst, Leonard Collins and Dorothy Roberts.

NEW RULING ALLOWS NAVAL RECRUITS TO GO TO SEA

New provisions received from the department at Washington by the local navy recruiting office provide for the enlisting of ex-soldiers and marines, sending them immediately to sea without the customary training. Regulations which have been adopted dispense with the usual time required in training of recruits in the case of former service men. The navy also offers the choice of ship or station to the applicant and if possible his request will be granted. The present system inaugurated gives the recruit a seagoing rate and the consequent pay from the beginning.

Men are now being enlisted from all branches of the Navy.

When a Girl Marries

By ANN LISLE

It took less than three hours to motor to Greyfriars Hall, but I've an idea it seemed half a lifetime to Terry.

His love for Betty had expressed itself in half a dozen ways—a giant basket of fruit, a box with the long, leafy stems of American Beauties poking through the cut end, a wicker case of jellies, a pile of magazines were stacked on the floor of the limousine. But Terry himself was now without means of expression. He was silent—utterly reserved—and as frightened as a schoolboy caught playing hooky.

I made him light his pipe to relieve the nervous strain of the journey, but there wasn't another thing I could do for him. Our brave Captain Terry was in a blue funk.

At last we arrived saw the head nurse, who appeared satisfied with our credentials, and passed us along to the pavilion where Betty was located. There we waited a long dreary ten minutes in a little chintz-hung room that made a fine effort to be cheery and at last there came to us Miss Moss, formerly of the quivering, retreating chin and boached-egg personality, but now looking almost clean-cut and efficient in her starched white uniform.

Terry, who had never met Miss Moss leaped to his feet and gasped: "How is she?"

In that cry there was no suggestion of his usual reserve.

"Oh, nicely, nicely!" twittered Miss Moss. "Doctor says there's really no danger now that she'll lose the use of her arm. And her head's much clearer."

Terry seized her shoulder in fingers that were white at the knuckles.

"Her arm! What it as bad as that?"

He looked at his own strong arm as if he hated it for being so sturdy and well when Betty's must be bandaged and torn.

"There! There!" murmured Miss Moss, as if she were talking to a little boy. "I'm telling you doctor says there's no danger any more. You'd better go for a walk about the grounds while I take Mrs. Harrison to see my little girl. And this afternoon you shall see her, too, if you'll be very, very calm."

This to Terry, the reserved.

He went white at Mrs. Moss's words. I knew he was wondering if Betty had asked for me — had chosen me—and had refused, perhaps, to see him.

"We've a few things in the car for her," ventured Terry. "May she have them?"

"I'll send an orderly," said the efficient, if tyrannical, Miss Moss. "Come, Mrs. Harrison."

Terry gripped my hand as if I were going on a long journey. Then, as I turned to follow Mrs. Moss, he jammed on his cap and went dashing in long strides out of the building.

"I'll have my lunch while you're with her," said Miss Moss, carrying on the new tradition that the third person singular feminine pronoun could have no antecedent other than Betty. "That will give you a chance to—visit."

"She took me to the door, opened it and murmured: "Here's Mrs. Harrison, dear."

There I was on the threshold of Betty's room wanting suddenly to run away and cry far more than I did to go in and face a Betty all bandaged and pale.

"Anne, Anne — you found me!" cried a tired voice like a little ghost of Betty's warm, vibrating tones.

In another second I was at Betty's bedside, kissing her soft cheeks and her burning forehead and holding her cold left hand against my throat.

"Yes, dear, I've found you. And I'm going to stay with you as long as you'll let me," I whispered.

Betty snatched her hand to brush away two or three tears that had gotten as far as the ends of her long eyelashes. Then she smiled whimsically.

"I'm so brave and self-sufficient!" she said. "I plan well enough to save you from being bothered about me, and then I go blubbering for joy and you upset my plans and find me out."

"No more 'saving us,' please, dear! We were scouring the world for you, Terry and Jeannie, and Tony and I — and Jim," I added consciously.

"Why, I worried you! I'm so sorry, Anne. Didn't you get the notes I sent the morning we came here? I gave them and the money for the stamps to our taxi-driver—special deliveries to you and Tony and Jeannie, and a telegram for Terry."

I laughed in relief at this clearing up of the mystery of the note I had received "three days after-date."

"Well, the taxi-driver decided to spare six cents to his conscience fund in the end. He mailed the letters. Now, about you, dear. Are you strong enough to talk? Will you tell me a little bit about it all?"

"It was my arm, Anne. It got worse and worse all the time. I thought it was going to be—paralyzed. I was so frightened. And I didn't want to be a burden to anyone who — who loved me."

As Betty spoke an idea flashed across my mind. Was it this fear and not the memory of her dead husband that had stood between her and Terry?

"You're all right now, dear," I whispered close to her cheek. "And we're here — Terry and I. Shall I call him?"

DRINK HOT TEA FOR A BAD COLD

Get a small package of Hamburg Brest Tea at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teaspoon full at any time during the day or before retiring. It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores of the skin, relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus driving a cold from the system.

Try it the next time you suffer from a cold or the grip. It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable, therefore safe and harmless.

RUB BACKACHE AND LUMBAGO RIGHT OUT

Rub Pain and Stiffness away with a small bottle of old honest St. Jacobs Liniment

When your back is sore and lame or lumbago, sciatica or rheumatism has you stiffened up, don't suffer! Get a 30 cent bottle of old, honest "St. Jacobs Liniment" at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub it right into the pain or ache, and by the time you count fifty, the soreness and lameness is gone.

Don't stay crippled! This soothing, penetrating oil needs to be used only once. It takes the ache and pain right out of your back and ends the misery. It is magical, yet absolutely harmless and doesn't burn the skin.

Nothing else stops lumbago, sciatica and lame back misery so promptly!

AS YOU LIKE IT

"I WILL!"
In every man, taking them as a whole,
"That Something" lies dormant in his soul—
It consists of ambition, confidence and power,
And compels him to fight and win hour by hour;
It ousts disappointments, discouragements, and all,
And keeps him "plugging" where many men fall.
"I Will," which is the talisman of all success,
Lies dormant, sleeping beneath your vest,
So wake it, man! Do not dare delay—
"It can be done," though many say, "Nay,"
Play the game well, you'll win the fight,
To hedges with discouragements—out of sight!
Rise, fight, and win—do the best you can—
You're no quitter, but a man, son, a man.

—Dr. Lewis Clinton.

LETTER RECEIVED BY A WHOLESALE HOUSE.

Sir: I have the honor to inform you that I shall be happy to represent your honorable house if yet you have not agents for the Egypt and you desire to be represented in this important country. We should be happy to receive from you the collection entire of your samples or catalogues of all kinds of oils and grasses, with your best conditions and your terms of trade. My long experiences in trade, and already in relations with important houses, I can assure you that your interests would be the best attendances, and should be to your entire satisfaction.

SALLAH H. EL-SAYED.

NERO HAD A PUNK SENSE OF HUMOR. HE DIDN'T READ THIS COLUMN EVERY DAY

Dear Roy—Every time my husband and I are about to have a quarrel we read your column and we both feel so happy that we go to a cafe for dinner and drink red ink. Ever hear of the little girl who threatened to go out in the backyard and eat worms? Well, you know keep it up. We admire your nerve.

—Mrs. F. G. H.
Dear Roy—My wife was taken suddenly ill and I phoned the doctor. He said to read your column to her until he could get there. I wish everybody to know what is best to do before the doctor comes.—H. W. Langdon.

Somehow or other we miss the old war. It has left an aching void in our list of allbiss. Last year we had a number of "wonderful business deals" in view to tell the wife about, but, of course, they were held up by the war. The excuse was 100 per cent efficient. Now—what's the use?

LEARNING ALL ABOUT NEW YORK.

Sherry's famous New York eating place is closed and will be made over into a bank. Enough cash has been paid into that institution to capitalize several banks, but, of course, a great deal of it was in tips, now salted safely away "back in the old country."—Kansas City Star.

Uncle Terwilliger says: "There are only two things I don't like about grand opera and they are the words and music."

Where Will We Get It?

LIMA AND THE great state of Ohio must have more funds or go into the hands of a receiver. With the passing of the saloon tax, Lima loses $66,000 a year. More taxes must come from some where. Politicians see it only one way—get more money or cut down City Hall, police and fire departments.

IT IS DANGEROUS to reduce the number of police; their number should be increased. It is just as dangerous and will mean higher insurance premiums for everybody, if we reduce the fire department in personnel. Any reduction of salary-drawers in City hall is puerile to think of; we shall be voting to increase salaries under a different system, so the reduction of present pay is ridiculous, for the highest salary is only $3,000 and only two of those, while a manager will cost that much.

BUT ONE WAY SEEMS available under whatsoever form we adopt. That is a new valuation of real estate, somewhere near the level now being paid for property, both residence and business. Sales occur every day of properties around $10,000 to $50,000 which are on the duplicate at $2,000 to $10,000. The next county auditor has an unenviable situation confronting him, for he is the man who can order a new appraisalment.

Where Are the Parties?

WHAT HAS BECOME of the once proud and ruling committees of the democratic and republican parties of the city? Up to this time not a defense has appeared for the present City Administration, republican to the bone. Its party organ has kept hands off, with not one word of defense for Mayor Simpson and his Cabinet. There must be something good to be said for the three and a half years which republicans have ruled Lima, but the organ of the party keepeth mum.

WHILE BOTH PARTIES are to be shelved absolutely by the new form of government; while two judges elected under a democratic endorsement are prime movers in the new idea; while the commission-manager form is expected to move on and embrace, first county and then state governments, yet the party committees stand aghast, but silent as the tomb. It looks as though everything is to be one-sided and like the wets, the old parties will die quietly and pass out so far as Lima is concerned.

Sociability Goes On

DESPITE THE FACT that wines, beers and liquors have vanished, no less than ten of the first-class establishments and hotel bars which are at least temporarily continuing as soft-drink establishments, were doing a nice business yesterday. The near-beer drawn from faucet has all the earmarks of the old brew, except the punch. But it wasn't the punch the patrons of these bars were seeking; it was the old companionship. This they were enjoying over soft, just as they formerly did, over the brew with pep.

IT THEREFORE BECOMES an interesting study of the future, to determine whether the bar and the small table and booth were the attractions or whether it was the drink itself. In other states the personnel changes and sooner or later the bar-room is no more. Lima may prove an exception but the first day shows that sociability went on.

MISS LIMA: "The girl with the key to dad's cellar is the queen of the town."

Your Liberty Bond

LIBERTY BONDS are as good as money, and are as transferable as money. The burglary of Sunday should be a lesson to business men and individuals to carefully guard their bonds, as they would their gold. A safe deposit vault, or placed in the hands of any banker, is the only right place to have your bond.

YOU WOULDN'T LEAVE money laying around your home to the amount of fifty or an hundred dollars. Don't leave your bond; take it to a bank and get your receipt on a pass-book. There is no way to trace a bond; it's as good in one man's hands as another, just as is currency.

Today's Health Hints

THE CHANGE OF LIFE IN MEN

Sairy Gamp and her wide circle of intimate friends have no corner on this here now change of life they talk so much about over the back fence.

Men from the age of sense to that of wisdom, that is from forty to fifty, suffer as much if not more than women suffer from the change of life.

The women who are most versed in the art of saireygamping generally begin to fuss about it at anywhere from thirty-three upward. Men might as well beat them to it two or three years. At thirty a man's arteries ought to begin to receive some consideration, not attention, but just a little consideration.

How in the deuce is a man to

know whether he is having the change of life, with no Sairy Gamp to warn him?

That is easy. He has only to test his physical efficiency. With women old age is almost wholly a state of mind wished on them by old women who pine for company. With men the arteries enter into the question measurably.

In order to test your physical efficiency you must first have some idea concerning your ordinary pulse rate. Assume that you have pulse rate of 68 or 78 per minute, which is the normal average. Take off all your clothes, and stand before a wide open window. Note the time. Do twenty rigid body lifts on the arms from the floor. Follow this with twenty deep knee flexions (squatting) from the erect posture. Follow this with twenty forward bends of body, knees stiff, attempting to touch floor with fingers, then raising arms to front, swinging them spread eagle, swinging them straight upward and repeat. Follow this with ten backward high kicks with each leg. Follow this with ten bends to each side endeavoring to touch floor behind heels with fingers. Follow this with five twists of the upper part of the body as far as possible to the side, to the back and to the other side, and reverse movement five times, hands stretched above.

All of this consumes from five to seven minutes, according to your height and speed.

Now sit down. After three minutes' rest count your pulse. If you are physically efficient your pulse will have regained its regular rate of 68 to 78 beats in the minute. If it is still rapid as a result of the exercise there is something wrong with your circulation. Either there is too little heart, too much tissue to nourish, or too rigid arteries. In any case the first remedy is—

Just keep on with the exercises as outlined every night and every morning of your life, until you have developed wind, tone and efficiency.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Bran and Gaining Weight
Is there any harmful effect from eating wheat bran as a cereal rather than in the form of bran bread or biscuits? I like it this way, and it controls constipation perfectly. At middle life is it possible to gain in weight when you are below normal weight from turning somersaults? (Miss C. M. N.)

ANSWER—Wheat bran taken in any form you prefer is quite harmless. Anyone who has been able to reduce weight by so mild a form of exercise as somersaults should be able to gain weight readily by diet and rest.

What is good to prevent the hair from falling after influenza? On suggestion of an old experienced nurse I had mine cut close, but it was lost in falling out just the same. I am only nineteen and I had very heavy hair. (Miss B. B. J.)
ANSWER—A woman's hair should never be clipped for any reason whatever, and you made a sad mistake in listening to the foolish advice of "Sairy Gamp." Of course clipping the hair has no more influence on the growth of the hair than clipping the nails has on the growth of the nails. The hair falls out after any acute illness, it usually grows in again when health and strength are fully regained. Moderate daily self-massage of the scalp, open air life and proper treatment of any sequelae or complications left by the illness should be had. Cutting, clipping or snipping the hair, with the idea of making it grow better, is a superstition and utterly unjustifiable practice.

The Baby's Second Summer
My baby is 9 months old and the coming summer will be her second summer, so I am anxious to know what foods should not let her have. She is a bottle baby, but I sometimes give her little tastes of other foods. I have a small milk can of ice, and sterilize every bottle before using it. (Mrs. M. J. L.)
ANSWER—Residues of pure, clean, fresh milk, which should be the baby's standby up to the fifth year, a baby prone to fifteen months old should have three times a week fresh meat broth, also thoroughly cooked vegetables (any kind) strained through a sieve, occasionally soft-boiled egg, and after the first year bread and butter.

CONFESSIONS of an EVERY DAY WIFE

BY IDAH M'GLONE GIBSON
MARGOT FORGIVES AGAIN

Theo came over and put his arms about me, as he always does when he thinks he has hurt me. "But you know, dear, I love only you, don't you? There is no other woman in this; there is nothing for which you might be jealous."

"Do you not realize, Theo, that I am not the kind of a woman who would be jealous of anybody or anything; but I do want to be something, some definite thing in your life—or else I do not want to be in it at all. Jealousy has always seemed to me to be a form of acknowledgment of inferiority, and, Theo, I know that for you I am the best woman."

"Whatever you are, Margot, you are my woman." Theo drew me into his arms and kissed me. "I do not mean to be a brute; it is just that I am thoughtless."

"I must go, dear; come home early and we will talk about it." I held up my mouth for a kiss; just as I did so the door opened and the little blond girl came in.

"I did not ring," said Theo, quickly and decidedly.

"I beg your pardon," she said and went out again with a slight bang at the door.

"I guess I'll have to get rid of that girl. She presumes," remarked Theo.

I did not say anything, as I knew if he felt that way it would be only a little while before she would go of her own accord and Dad Symone would not have to discharge her, as he was thinking of doing.

As I went out I saw her wiping a tear away. Poor child, she had not yet learned that a flirtation with her employer was apt to lose her job as well as her heart.

I really felt sorry for her, as I knew that Theo was more to blame than she was.

After I had left I realized that I had not said a word about being careful when he met his father. It was just the same old story—complete capitulation to Theo's smile.

As I left for home I saw into Dick's little wife. "Ah, ma chérie," she exclaimed, "I am so very glad you are come. I want you to—to what you say? Clean up for me the way to the Bon Marche, or whatever you call your big shop."

"Goodness, Bébe," as we have all named her because she is so tiny and childlike; say it in English," I replied.

"But I did," she answered, wonderingly. "I want to occupy myself with looking for the layette," and then the color came in a flood, while an expression of madonna-like beauty overspread her face.

"Ah, Bébe, dear, dear child, is that what you want to buy? I shall adore to help you pick out baby clothes."

We started for the store at once. And yet all the time there was a queer little feeling about my heart that Dick's little French was to have the exquisite joy of motherhood before I did.

All at once I solved my unrest. All at once I knew that when I could hold my own baby in my arms no one would have the power to hurt me much.

I looked again at Dick's petite wife and knew that for the first time in my life I experienced a feeling of jealousy. I was inferior to this little French girl who was so joyously looking forward to the crown of heavenhood. It was almost with grief that I handed the dainty clothing the clerk set out for us.

The prices however, made the fragile French girl raise her hands expressively, and after buying only one or two pieces for patterns, she decided to make the most of the layette herself.

"I have not told my belle mere yet," she said rather wistfully. "Do you think she will be pleased?"

"Of course she will," I answered, and I wondered just what Aunt Margot would say to her.

"Tonight I tell Dick," she said slyly.

Great Scott, haven't you told him yet?" was my exclamation.

"No; I am not sure he will be pleased. He want me always to be what you call the young girl, and like me to dance, to laugh, to amuse him. I do not think he will be happy when I must care for by baby."

I looked at Dick's wife in surprise. I had never thought that she had the power to grasp Master Dickie's character so profoundly.

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, forms toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of working the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but it is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Wise, of the New York Free synagogue; Captain, Thomas G. Chamberlain, world-war veteran, and John H. Walker, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor.

TORONTO IS THREATENED WITH GENERAL STRIKE

TORONTO, Ont.—Toronto was threatened Tuesday with a general strike.

A special meeting of trades unionists Monday night placed the power to call a general strike at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning in the hands of a committee of 15. A statement given out at the close of the meeting, declared a 95 per cent vote had been cast in favor of a strike.

Letter carriers did not vote. The vote of the street car men was postponed. The threatened strike would support striking metal workers who demand a 44-hour week and full union recognition. The metal workers Monday rejected a 48-hour compromise.

LIMA NOW IS DRY

Quiet Marks the Last Sale of Liquor Here

Lima for the first time in its history is dry. The lone liquor house which paid $305 for the privilege of being the last to operate went out of business Monday. There was little to mark the passing of the liquor traffic. Police had no trouble and few arrests were made.

The supply of booze was very short on the final wet day. The California Wine company sold its stock out early and closed its doors long before the gong tapped at midnight last night when the state saw the end of the liquor business.

Work is fast being done on the various old bar-rooms which will continue in some other business. Within a very short time the city will see many new shops blossoming out.

ROBE DE NUIT FOR
BRIDAL TROSSEAU

BY ELOISE

There is quite a good deal of being done in the lingerie of today and the young bride is not careful she may be embroidered in something purple or almond green instead of the old-fashioned white. Pink has been accepted most generally now, but it was a long time before it really replaced white. It will be interesting to see just how long it will take for orchid, yellow, purple, blue, black and other novel color effects to gain a strong foothold.

Paris designers have introduced things that look as if they might have been picked from somebody's tulip beds, so colorful are they. This luxurious robe de nuit is orchid colored chiffon trimmed with much lace and satin ribbon made in empire effect. Many brides will like the new lingerie although they will probably prefer the pastel shades to the more brilliant ones. This set is very delicate and will give a charming note of color to any trossseau. The bodice cap is lace and the negligee which is thrown over the arm is chiffon trimmed with wide lace to match that in the gown. Clusters of tucks are also used. Of course the robe is sleeveless, as are all of the newest ones, but the negligee has long flowing sleeves.

LEMON JUICE FOR FRECKLES

Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and rosy white the skin becomes. Yes! Cool, Cheerful and Eager to Serve

Through the eyes of a child, the writer again sees an old gentleman hobbling up the street with his emaciated body bearing on a knarled club which he himself had fashioned.

It seemed he could never pass a group of boys without sharing in the pleasures at hand; and the boys would always make that fine old man the center of their attention.

His hand showed how to tap and skin the willow twig to make a whistle; his kites would never fail to fly; his tales of woodlore were never lost in our memory—he talked of birds and taught us to interpret their calls. He was a man of service and kindness.

Among the things he taught, was that man was never to be measured by his earthly possessions, but by the deeds of service he performed.

As an institution serving to the best of our ability, that is the way in which we care to be judged.

So many, the tight skirt has been a bug-bear because of the limit to the size of their step—especially when an emergency arises.

That source of annoyance has been entirely eliminated in a group of fine new white separate skirts that have just arrived and still they retain that shapely, stylish silhouette effect.

There is a tuck seam down the center back which conceals the slash, which may be closed with a button and loop when the extra fullness is not desired.

Of gabardine, the first model caught sight of had corded patch pockets and otherwise quite plain.

Another of the same material had cordings running around the skirt, clever pockets and the yoke gathered about the waist.

Loads of Cool Charm About These New Tricolette Dresses

It seems that the filmy mists of Summer have gathered into a tangible form and marched right into our ready-to-wear Salon where dresses are displayed.

These lovely tricolette affairs in their bewitching light colors are surely the embodiment of Summertime. The colors are seal blue, tan, grey, flesh, lavender and white as well.

While generally we speak of these dresses as being of Tricolette, they are in many cases combined with other materials.

Some are purely and simply Tricolette as to material and plain as to shade. Others of plain Tricolette are combined with self material or georgette in stripes running either lengthwise or crosswise.

Buttons are used as trimming; yarn is used as trimming. Some are collarless; some have collars.

Skirts are tapering as to design and natural inclination with such clingy fabric as this.

SPORT SNAP : SHOTS :

Officials of the coming lawn tennis tournaments have already begun to devise ways and means to attract Capt. R. Norris Williams, 2nd, the former national champion in the singles to compete in the events in which they are interested. This should not be difficult. Williams has always been one of the most industrious of campaigners on the American courts. Ever since the memorable season of 1912 when he first appeared to show his mettle on the turf of the Crescent Athletic club at Bay Ridge, in the historic New York State championship, Williams has been one of the most interesting figures at the game in this country.

While opinions differ as to the true greatness as a player of the actively brisk American who leaped into fame in 1914 by lowering the colors of Maurice E. McLoughlin in the championship match at Newport, the last of the national series ever decided on the field of the picturesque Casino, it is certain that he is able and near the top of things connected with the game. Williams last played in this country, and then much against his will, in the patriotic tournament that replaced the national championship at Forest Hills, in August 1917. That was shortly before he sailed for France and he was beaten in one of the early rounds.

Since that time Williams has fought and played lawn tennis on the various courts of France, Italy, and England. Reports of his work are indicative of good form. This will make his performances all the more interesting. He will have his chance to demonstrate whether or not the honors rightly belong to R. Lindley Murray. Then there is the wizard Ichihya Kumagata, and the sensation of last season William T. Tilden 3rd.

A compliment to American soldiers is implied in the decision of the French government to adopt American athletics in France.

The task of inaugurating the system of American physical education in the French army has been assigned to Louis C. Schroeder, formerly physical instructor of the Young Men's Christian Association college at Springfield, Mass., and he will confine his initial efforts to the Ecole d'Artilleur at Fontainebleau.

Mr. Schroeder, speaking of his work a few days ago, said:

"The French government has been watching the work of our boys and also their play. The authorities are much struck with the enthusiasm of the American soldier both in his fighting and his recreation, and they feel that whatever games, physical education and methods have produced such good results are best for them to employ in their schools and army."

"It is a curious fact that the French do not approach the question of competitive games and massed recreation from our American angle. With us it is largely a question of pleasure, amusement and recreation, but with the French it is a means to an end and that end is the physical reconstruction of race."

IS DEMPSEY ON THE RIGHT ROAD?

By H. C. HAMILTON.

NEW YORK.—Jack Dempsey has training ideas of his own and so far he has proved them to be as near right as things can be. But whether he is right in hiring a big, slow fellow like Bill Tate to tussle with him, is a question.

Somehow, a boxer always gets the idea when he gets out to lick some one who amounts to something that he must find as nearly the counterpart of his antagonist and start learning from the substitute how the other fellow boxes. Heretofore, Dempsey has left those methods to the others and laid out his own course of training. Dempsey has done most of his work of preparation by road work, swimming, golf, and the like. He has been more strongly in the open air than most anything in conditioning himself. He is a strong exponent of shadow boxing, but doesn't care so much about waltzing around with some big fellow, just because he fights big fellows. As a matter of fact, Dempsey is strong for the smaller fellows, because he believes their speed and agility gives him speed and agility.

Bill Tate is almost as large as Willard and probably just about as slow and clumsy. Dempsey may be making a mistake by training with him.

DOWNEY DOWNS
K. O. LAUGHLIN

CANTON, Ohio.—Bryan Downey, Columbus welterweight, Monday night outpointed K. O. Willie Laughlin, Bethlehem, Pa., in a 12-round bout before 2,500 fight fans in the city auditorium here. There were no knockdowns, but Downey hit oftener and cleaner. The victory wins Downey another chance at Champion Jack Britton before the local club.

Watching the Scoreboard

Monday's hero—Phil Douglas. The big right-hander limited the Braves to a single hit, missing a no-hit, no-run performance thru a single by Ira Powell.

The Yanks showed Jack Quinn their speed. They scored one run less than the Browns, who they got more than twice as many hits.

Five in a row was too much for the Tigers. They succumbed to the Athletics 5 to 1.

Pat Moran had a "day" in Philadelphia Monday and his Reds celebrated it by mauling the Phillies 7 to 5.

Rube Benton continued to be a celebrated character by defeating the Pirates, passing aiding him to a 4 to 3 victory.

The Red Sox continued to use the skids, Cleveland taking a 12 to 7 count out of them.

Cox Explains His Plan for City Relief

COLUMBUS—Governor Cox Monday explained his views on financial relief for cities and school districts to a committee of Clevelanders composed of Fred H. Goff, school board member Thompson, Finance Director Henry.

Cox told them that even if the emergency cities relief bill were passed over his veto by the legislature, it would be until November before it became effective and that would be too late.

In support of his plan, which would allow cities to issue certificates of indebtedness, Cox said it would provide immediate relief and would not permit the lavish expenditure of money.

Goff told the governor that his is a good plan and he was in favor of the certificate of indebtedness proposition. Finance Director Neal also said he favored the plan.

Ringside Flashes

Don Curley mauled Frankie Neesler, the Cincinnati hopeful, in their 15 round grudge at Dayton the other night, beating him in every round, and putting him to the mat in the 13th. The bell was all that saved him. He hung on for the last two rounds, but was unable to land a punch.

Jack Dillon got his jaw in the way of one of Phil Harrison's hay-makers in the first round of their scheduled 8 round battle in Memphis, but kept his feet until the second round when the final tap on the scone came and put him entirely to sleep.

Ad Wolgast, former ring idol, is staging four round boxing exhibitions at Vernon, California.

Dick O'Brien wants to be one of the boxers in the semi-final show in the big ring July 4th.

Miske and Bill Brennan have been rematched. They put on a whirlwind of a fight in Tulsa recently, and the crowd clamored for another show just like it.

K. O. Laughlin and Bryan Downey will meet in a fast bout in Canton next Monday night.

Mat Hinkle may not be the third man in the ring July 4th but he has his finger in the big pie, anyway. He is the Cleveland distributor for the pasteboards, and is keeping his grog shop open as sport headquarters during the sale of the tickets.

Frank Barrieau, Pacific Coast welterweight champion, and Mickey King, Australian champ, will make it a ten round go in Vancouver, B. C. Wednesday.

Tomorrow starts the auction of the ring relics collected over a period of many years as stake holder in the big matches by Bob Vernon. The auction will be held in New York.

Frankie Neesler will go up against Joe Thomas, of Columbus, in a preliminary to the 12 round battle between Young Sandoz and Frankie Mason, to be held at the Elmwood arena, Cincinnati, Decoration Day. Thomas has beaten a bunch of fast boys in his day, was former sparring partner for Ad Wolgast, and the Cincinnati idol will have to do better than he did in Dayton Friday night.

FIRST CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENCY IS A WET ONE

Believes in Free Beer and at Least Two Lawful Souses A Year

WASHINGTON.—The first candidate to announce himself for the presidency in 1920 is "wet." He believes in free beer and other intoxicants — and would permit two "souses" a year under the law.

His name is "Captain Sir Mark Golein, Kt. M. M."—whatever all that may be—and he hails from New Jersey, which already boasts one president.

Golein heads what he terms the "New Party," and allows that his party "will save the union." He's got a platform and everything. And his wife, "Lady Golein," who apparently is getting her husband's boom under way, says he's fighting no party because there is "some good and some bad in all of them."

She dropped into the United Press office here and submitted her husband's name as a candidate, adding privately that she really had hoped he wouldn't win the election but someone had to be elected so she had become resigned to help out.

Then she sprung his platform, which has a "wet" plank as a headliner. Golein would have "free manufacture and sale of beer, whiskey and other liquors; six months on the chain gang for convicted drunkards, the family receiving $1-a day for his labor. Such drunkards could only get drunk twice a year—July 4 and Christmas.

Golein says he stands for "the liberty of the people," "reduction of taxation and trade protection," "construction of a merchant marine on a safe and safe basis," religious, political, medical and business freedom, with a minimum wage for workers and equal suffrage."

Golein also has unearthed "five large, perpetual, positive sources" of revenue which he proposes to substitute for taxation, and which he will explain "if invited by associations, societies and organizations."

As a solution of the immigration problem, the New Party leader proposes that foreign labor coming here "for the first two years residence in our country shall at least be 200 miles in the interior from our coast lines." Golein's idea is to get the immigrants onto the land, instead of into the tenements.

Old age pensions and free education and homes for the afflicted and poor constitute another platform plank.

"The Irish, the Germans, the Austrians, the Slavians, the Italians and others from countries beyond the seas, left their kaisers and kings and came here and helped build our country and sustained our freedom and independence and they and their descendants fought our battles in our past wars most faithfully and honorably and it is our absolute duty to protect them and honor and help them in their endeavors in every way," reads another plank.

No entangling alliance with foreign nations, is the eighth plank, with strict adherence to the Monroe doctrine and the Sherman Trust act. The new party will not have government ownership of public utilities, so as to protect

EGGS AND MILK TO LOWER H. C. L.

Experts Advise Them As Substitutes for Meat to Cut Down Food Bills

At least one-fourth of the average family income goes for food, home budget figures show.

Approximately 16 per cent of the food is meat, according to government statistics.

So that cheaper things of equal food value to use in place of meat are what the wise housewife is seeking.

There's more muscle-building "protein" in a dozen eggs at prevailing prices than in beef you buy for the same money, food chemists say.

And in a quart of milk at 13 cents there's more protein than in half a pound of beef or four large eggs.

DOING WITHOUT MEAT

Combine milk and eggs in a meal, forget meat, and you score on the high cost of living.

Here are two ways suggested by the Home Economics Department of Ohio State University:

SCRAMBLED EGGS IN CREAM SAUCE: Use 4 eggs, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup medium white sauce, salt and pepper. To the melted butter in saucepan add the unbeaten eggs to which seasoning is added. Cook until of creamy consistency, stirring and scraping from bottom of pan. Add to white sauce and serve on toast.

BAKED CUSTARD: Use 3 cups milk, 3 eggs, nutmeg, 1-3 cup sugar, few grains salt and flavoring. Do not beat the eggs, but mix thoroughly with sugar and salt; add milk and flavoring, pour into custard cups and sprinkle with nutmeg. Set cups into pan of warm water and place in slow oven. During baking care should be taken that the water surrounding the molds does not reach the boiling point.

COLUMBUS.—The Ohio Road Contractors Association held its annual meeting here Monday, with road men from all sections of the Plans for the intensive road-building campaign to be carried on this summer, were discussed. H. G. Zoller, of Swanson, president, presided.

WILL PROBE BRIBERY

COLUMBUS.—A special grand jury will be called by Prosecuting Attorney Schlesinger to investigate alleged bribery in the legislature, Schlesinger announced Monday.

The session will be called for Tuesday, June 3, if that date is acceptable to Attorney General Price.

"You are suffering from brain fog and ennui," announced the specialist. "You should take more interest in your business."

"I would like to," replied the patient.

"Then why don't you?" demanded the specialist.

"The law won't let me," replied the patient. "I'm a pawnbroker."

The mails from home had been received by a certain regiment. One Tommy received a large box addressed to himself, and with a triumphant yell he rushed off to his company's lines and gathered them around him to share the contents of the box.

"Smokes, lads," he cried, as he unfasted the wrapping. "From the old man, I know it, and there's sure to be a bottle or two of Scotch."

He opened the box, gave one look and collapsed in a heap. "It's from old Aunt Mary," groaned the warrior. "Bandages an' 'tment, an' embrocation, an' splints, an' a book on 'ow to be your own surgin'."

President Wilson is fond of telling a story about an old teamster. This old fellow said to the treasurer of the concern one day:

"Me and that off horse has been workin' for the company seventeen years, sir."

"Just so, Winterbottom, just so," said the treasurer, and he cleared his throat and added: "Both treated well, I hope?"

The old teamster looked dubious. "Well," he said, "we was both tooker, down sick last month and they got a doctor for the boss, while they docked my pay."

Wholesome Food Keeps the Children Well

A mother writes:

"We always use Royal Baking Powder because we know when we use it we are not using anything injurious."

Prudent mothers avoid cheap baking powders because they frequently contain alum, a mineral acid. No matter how much they are urged to change, they stick to
